

There is one thing just now as easy for a blind man as for a lynx-eyed policeman; that is to keep off the grass.

The article of the Brooklyn Argus has been published in the "Institution." He didn't do it a purpose, but was hounded on by the power obtained over him by a picture by Hughes Merle. He has not sinned beyond forgiveness; only let him be careful hereafter.

We hope that the bill introduced into the House by Mr. Archer of Maryland, to prevent "hazing" in the Naval Academy, may soon be passed and become a law. It is fully time the brutal practice was stopped, not only in institutions under government control, but in colleges, in some of which it still retains a foothold. The very highest standard of manliness should be set up in all places where our future legislators, merchants, governors, clergymen and the rest are put upon the stocks. Devotion, innate and habitual, develops itself enough in life to make an early inculcating of it superfluous.

Senator Fenton's speech in advocacy of the repeal of the Fugitive law is clear, sound and good, the saddest thing connected with it being the thought that speech-making on such a theme should be called for. If it is not by this time a demonstrated fact that the moiety theory and practice was born in sin and shaped in iniquity, then we fear no more talk can make it clear. What we all want is the legislation which should logically result from the undeniable facts exposed by late investigations. And that is a question of majorities; which just now all seem to be on the wrong side.

Another train burned up—this time on an Indiana railroad. We suppose there's no use in talking, but if there were we should like to protest against the custom of heating cars with stoves. The train for some reason leaves the track, the stove tips over, the fire spreads out, the wood-work is all consumed, the passengers are crowded out, the train is wrecked, and the passengers are taken place at once. Everybody, the railroad companies included, knows this and keep on carelessly taking the chances. Preachers must find some new symbol for hell to make men afraid of it, it is getting too common-place.

Ex-President Johnson is not dead, as some ignorant people have supposed; nor is he sleeping either, for down among the grand old mountains of Tennessee he still lives, moves and has his being. He is full of ideas about things he has in the days of "my policy" and as back-bony as he was in the days of impeachment. And don't incline to the lower House of Congress; nothing less than a Senatorship suits his ambition or will comport with the duty he owes to a country clamorous for a renewal of his services. So, at least, the news gossips say. A. J. likes the vote, but thinks "George" will use it up. Did he ever stumble so wisely?

The Courier-Journal certainly takes very strange ground upon the Civil Rights bill for a paper whose editor has so recently been in Boston. It thinks that when the measure becomes a law will be a dark one indeed "to every honest man who hopes for the repose and prosperity of his country." That so influential and independent a newspaper as the Courier-Journal should be able to object to there and there a clause in the bill, to understand it as fearing calamity as the legitimate fruit of the entire scheme, it passes, then the Louisville organ is too much for us. The Civil Rights bill is nothing more than a step in the right direction after the Fifteenth Amendment; in the same way that the Amendment was the proper and fair thing after Emancipation. We cannot but be sure to follow the national instinct of justice and honor, of which the bill is an exhibition, rather than the spirit of jealousy and technical cavil, which is the wriggling tail of the dead snake of slavery. Long may Sumner's word ring in the ears of the people—"Don't let my Civil Rights bill fail!"

What's it, though? That an occurrence is declared impossible by the unanimous voice of mankind is the precise reason why the deep, prophetic philosopher will consider it a sure thing. Not many moons ago the nation was largely a pleasant, assured way to the little band of Philadelphia Centennials who asked Congress for the gratuity of a few millions that the better celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of our common and beloved nationality. Congress was virtuous even if cakes and ale were abolished forever, and with a quiet wink out of the southwestern corner of their left eye, told the simple-minded children of William Penn to wait a while. We were just then in the thick of astounding revelations, frauds and all that, and the people wouldn't stand so big an appropriation in the mood which was upon them. "We are here, gentlemen of the committee, to protect the Treasury, to stand between the tax-payers and those who seek to increase their burdens; this, gentlemen, is our mission in the lofty position which we occupy; so, you see, we cannot make the proposition a proposition." So signified the uncorrupted watch-dogs of the national exchequer. Most of the people applauded and supposed the Centennial job was a dead goal. Alas, for human hopes! As has, we believe, been remarked, they wicker like the flower or like cheap paper collars in August. This very day that identical request for money is now a prospect for the future. As the first intimation of a modest sum of $3,000,000 only is asked for, and a few hundreds of that will have to go towards paying for the dinners, etc., which have "influenced" members to vote for it. Butler and Tremain are for it. And yet we said it wouldn't go through!

Who Shall Decide? That nothing is so hard to find out as the truth, especially when many fresh illustrations are offered to establish it as a proposition. Nevertheless, the doctors of the New York Neurological Society have furnished additional evidence of it. At a meeting of that body on Monday Dr. Hammond expounded his views on alcohol, with especial regard to its effects on the nervous system, and cited the results of the customary experiments upon rabbits and dogs. It really does seem pitiful that small animals have nobody to look after their interests in the manner in which the S. P. C. A. looks after horses, oxen and mules. The dog, the frog and the rabbit are abandoned as a prey to the doctors, who gouge out their brains, cut off their heads, pour whiskey down their throats, and otherwise without let or hindrance from the friends of the brute abuse and poison them to gratify an insatiable thirst for knowledge. Well, Dr. Hammond tried alcohol on the dogs and rabbits and found that it made them comatose, and when given in sufficient doses made them drunk in the same way that it intoxicates the lords of creation. The doctor's treatment of one particular canine is only to be pardoned by a shuddering commiseration after he shall have shown the indispensible benefits of the information thus gained, upon men and upon other dogs. By his own cold-blooded confession, the medical man "trephined" the dog—that is, he cut a round hole in his skull—then he "inserted a cephalometer" in the hole and poured an ounce of alcohol through the passage so created into the dog's skull, right down among his cerebral organs and the very source of his brain power. With a candor which, under the circumstances, is delicious, the surgeon admits that in "six minutes and a half the dog's gait was staggering" and in a few minutes more "he was comatose"; that is, the dog was drunk as an Allderman on New Year's night. We don't wonder, being slightly scientific ourselves, that the animal was upset; we should have been astonished if he kept his four legs even under him after taking a horn in such an unnatural manner—a manner which it is only fair to suppose was as novel to him as the modern way of collecting the taxes was to the people before the advent of Sambo. That he didn't keel over and die outright is a compliment to the excellence of the constitution with which nature had endowed him. What the doctor wanted to find out was this: whether when a man gets drunk it is because of the action of the liquor on his brain, or whether the rum stays in his stomach and the head gets drunk from sympathy. The first member of the problem is the true one—the liquor really gets into the brain itself. What practical advantage is to grow out of a demonstration which cost the dog his standing is more than we can tell. Not to take up much more space with a reference to experiments of a character so pitiless and horrible, we wish simply to speak of one tried upon a rabbit by this same Dr. Hammond. For ten days the operator fed the long-eared, short-tailed innocent with broad scotch in Bourbon whiskey, and alleges that within the time mentioned the poor thing had received a pint of that beverage without, as the Doctor says, "being seriously inconvenienced." Good for the rabbit! Of course there are men and women who can scarcely take a pint in half a day without "serious inconvenience," but a rabbit is a different thing—not so debased, you see, but what we are trying to come at is that the doctors couldn't agree as to whether alcohol is ever good for a man—even as a medicine. Dr. Hammond thought it was sometimes, while Dr. Parker had his doubts. Meanwhile shall we drink, or not? Dear us! a long-winded way the scientific men have of arguing what everybody else is ascertained by the outcome of experiments made without the help of a trephining auger or a cephalometer.

THREE MEN KILLED. Detroit, May 5.—A steam boiler in Irving & Dow's planing and saw mill exploded this morning, instantly killing the engineer, Donald Roblin, and a young man named Miller McGowan. Charles Cole, an accountant, was seriously but not dangerously hurt. Charles Lear was badly scalded by the steam and two others suffered contusions. The force of the explosion was terrible. Fragments of the boiler not less than a ton in weight were hurled 200 feet.

METROPOLITAN NEWS. A Heavy Robbery. New York, May 5.—George Van Velsor, a youth of nineteen, employed in the Treasurer's office of the New York Central road, disappeared today with $32,000 of the company's funds. The money was kept in a safe of which he knew the combination. After obtaining the money he discharged the combination of the lock, so it could not be opened except by forcing. It is supposed a companion named Baxter accompanied Van Velsor in his flight.

A SENSITIVE YOUTH.

No Committee Suicide because of the Disgrace on an Arrest.

BALTIMORE, May 5.—A youth named Christian Geise, aged sixteen, was arrested yesterday for assaulting another boy. His disgrace preyed upon his mind that he suicided this morning by taking arsenic.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Unpaid Laborers Asking Congress for Relief.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Four or five hundred laborers assembled in the rotunda of the Capitol this afternoon to have a conference with Gen. Chapman, the delegate of the District of Columbia, relative to money owing them by several contractors under the Board of Public Works. They want Congress to pass a bill making an appropriation to pay them and withhold the amount which would be required for that purpose from the sums due from the government to the authorities.

THE FINANCE QUESTION.

The Senate Finance Committee to-day took further action on the House currency bill, and by a majority vote agreed to recommend the incorporation in it of the following provisions: The maximum great-cash circulation to be $382,000,000. New national bank notes are to be issued to the amount of $164,000,000, provided that for each million of such notes issued there shall be $500,000 of greenbacks retired until the total greenback circulation shall have been reduced to $300,000,000. The committee voted to fix January 1, 1877, as the date at which specie payment should be resumed, but did not reach a conclusion as to what system should be employed for that purpose.

NOT A DEFACER.

The examination of the accounts of Gen. W. T. Clark, postmaster at Galveston, Texas, heretofore announced a defaulter to the amount of $10,000, shows on the contrary that the government owes him a balance of over $3,000.

THE MISSISSIPPI FLOODS.

Further Reports of Destruction.

NEW ORLEANS, May 5.—A. F. Marlin, writing to the Picayune from Black River, says the country is submerged deeper than it was in 1867. Among the people there has been great privation and in some instances, he says, "picture to your mind the condition of our locality when helpless widows and children are condemned to fight against starvation with two and a half ears of corn a day." After mentioning other cases of desolation the writer concludes: "But for the timely arrival of supplies from the Relief Committee of New Orleans the suffering here would have been intense. It thrills me with horror to contemplate what our condition would have been had not Heaven-sent charity reached us in time. May the donors never know what it is to want. If they could witness the effect of their noble acts they would fully realize that it is more blessed to give than to receive."

THE DEFENDING DARKIES.

MEMPHIS, May 5.—Planters from below were in the city to-day trying to procure hands. They confirm previous statements in regard to large numbers of colored hands refusing to make new engagements, thinking that the national government will provide for them.

The river at this point has fallen about two inches since the last report. It is looked for to fall still lower. During the last hour of business there was considerable pressure to get out of the market. The market fell 1/2 per cent. On extreme quotations just before the close there was an improvement and prices recovered 1/4 per cent. from the lowest point. The features were Western Union, Lake Shore, Union Pacific, Rock Island, Northern Pacific, St. Paul.

UNITED STATES CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, May 5. Mr. MORRILL reported back the bill appropriating $90,000 for the sufferers in Louisiana, with an amendment adding $60,000 thereto.

Mr. EDMUNDS moved that the bill expire Sept. 1st.

Mr. TRASK spoke of the inability of the state authorities to aid the sufferers.

Mr. ALCONR said there should be great care in distributing the food and clothing. He referred to the reports that the negroes had already ceased work alleging that they were fed and clothed by the government. He had a thousand negroes on his plantation and should not let while he had laid in a few feet of earth. He would feed himself, and when he had no more they would starve together. If the money for building levees had been properly expended there would not have been any inundation. He also wanted Arkansas to be included in the bill, as that state was also a sufferer by the flood, and wanted the disbursement of the money to be controlled by the Secretary of War.

After a long debate on motion of Mr. SARGENT the bill was recommitted to the Appropriation Committee.

The Senate then resumed the consideration of the supplementary civil rights bill.

Mr. GORDON of Georgia gave notice that he would submit an amendment to strike out the provision of the bill giving all persons full and equal enjoyment of the rights of citizenship.

The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of executive business and adjourned.

HOUSE.

In concluding his speech favoring the Central Pacific bill, Mr. KELLY said, "let us say to the world, 'You may exclaim any one of us, but in our union we challenge a comparison with all the world besides.'"

Mr. HALE of Maine followed in a speech adverse to the measure.

Mr. PACKARD followed in advocacy of the bill, declaring that while he had laid in a few feet of earth, he would feed himself, and when he had no more they would starve together. If the money for building levees had been properly expended there would not have been any inundation. of whom, after the doors were closed, had taken seats in the galleries, the doors were opened and the Sergeant-at-Arms placed at the bar of the House a dozen delegates.—There were excused in a single moment and then all further proceedings and the call were dispensed with.—Then the House went again into committee, and a renewal of voting again showed that there was a quorum. Some members, indignant at what they supposed to be an effort to coerce them, declined voting and another vote was resorted to. This revealed the presence of a quorum, but the attempt to get a vote proved again to be a failure. Then for the third time the roll was called, with a similar result. At length Wheeler of New York, remarking that it was evident that no business would be done, moved that the committee rise. The motion was agreed to and at one o'clock the House adjourned without having made the smallest progress in the business for which the evening session was held.

Kingston, Wednesday Morning, May 6.

Correspondents will please direct their communications to the Editor, at the office of the Freeman, No. 10, Broadway, New York.

The Freeman is published every morning except on Sundays and public holidays.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

BUSINESS NOTICE.

We are happy to announce to our patrons that we have secured the well-known Premium of the State of New York, for the year 1874, and will hereafter have entire charge of the Free Press Printing Department of the Freeman establishment. Mr. Halght's skill and taste are too well known to need any recommendation from us. We are now prepared to do the finest kinds of Job Printing at reasonable rates.

FOR SALE.

A Double Super Royal Cylinder Press, 31x46, very superior for newspaper work. Also, a very large room for a more perfect press for jobbing purposes. Will be sold at a bargain.

To-night—Temperance meeting in the Round M. E. Lecture room at 8 o'clock.

CITY NOTES.

The coming of Harman is all the talk now among the archbishops.

Richard, the eating-saloon proprietor, has opened an eating-saloon in the gate-house.

Do your street-sweeping before seven o'clock.

The down town post-office is made melodious by the notes of two canary birds.

In the applications for license Monday, we omitted the name of John Myers, corner of North Front and Wall streets.

The wind raised such great clouds of dust on the streets Tuesday a person could scarcely see.

Thomas Conroy has commenced a dwelling house on Union street, near the corner of Chambers.

Winter Bros. have a remarkably fine express wagon. It looks as though it had just come out of the paint shop.

The youngsters, after the recent cold spell, are again busily searching for trailing arbutus.

On Tuesday 91 canal boats laden with 11,639 tons of coal reached water through the Delaware & Hudson Canal.

Rondout can turn out the heaviest mous-tache of any of the river towns, and it is worn by a railroad man.

It is reported that a project is on foot to establish an apparatus for the manufacture of ice in this city by a number of consumers.

Mr. Jackson, the painter, has fitted up a shop on John street, opposite Music Hall, and the lettering on that shop and on the sign is the admiration of all the small boys up-town.

Baron Von Charles Strump has enlarged his barber shop opposite Music Hall, and refurnished the same, so it looks like a sort of paradise to the man who feels his beard pull.

A public Temperance meeting will be held to-night at the Rondout M. E. Lecture Room. All are invited to attend and express their views.

Wm. Gokoy expects a cargo of Indian horses from Indian Territory this week or next. A number of our citizens are practicing with the lasso, and there'll be high times when those horses are scattered around.

An oyster opener from the country has arrived at the saloon in Music Hall. He calls from Newtown, and is so expert he can "hail" the "Arkansas" "Treasure" or the "Devil's Dream" on his fiddle with one hand, while he opens the juicy bivalves with the other.

Granny calls on Cash and the Local occasionally and cheers them with a song and jig, but her description of her New Year call on the Mayor is the funniest thing of the season except Captain Charlie's "Dat Water Melon Man."

A new slang phrase has come into use. If a young person has expressed a disapprobation of any particular thing, he or she exclaims: "Oat! shoot that!" You can always detect a touch of refinement and good sense with the frequency with which he uses this witty remark.

The amount of ex-marrow used by the boys upon Saturday nights is astonishing. How much of it they leave on the dresses of their particular friends are requested not to tell, but when a young lady is heard inquiring the price of a bottle of benzine, it may be naturally supposed some fellow has been gently reposing his amorous locks on her shoulder.

Some one up-town got moon-struck Monday night and rang the fire bells. The Sahler Hook & Ladder Company turned out along with an impromptu hose cart (an old wagon), which they yanked along at such a rate of speed they were soon turning the wheels inside out.

All the men, women, children and dogs came out to see the fire, and for a time the streets were thronged with people.

Religious Notice.

Rev. H. S. Voorhis of Nyack, Rockland county, will occupy the pulpit of the Second Reformed Church up-town Sunday forenoon and evening.

A Deluded Planter.

A farmer in the town of Olive a few days ago planted a bushel of hickory nuts and says he intends to raise from those nuts from two to three thousand hoop poles. Poor, deluded man.

Rev. Mr. Cooper's Resignation.

At a largely attended meeting of members and pewholders of the Rondout Baptist Church, held Tuesday evening, to take action on the resignation of their pastor, Rev. James Cooper, it was unanimously resolved to request him to withdraw his resignation. The meeting then en masse repaired to the parsonage to report their action.

Large Funeral.

The funeral services held in the Waris street Baptist Church on Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock over the remains of the late Mrs. Geo. Benckman were very largely attended not only by the relatives of the deceased lady but by her extensive circle of friends and admirers.

Military Affairs.

By an order recently issued by Adjutant General John F. Rathbone, the new system of "Revised Infantry and Cavalry Tactics," prepared by Gen. Upson, U. S. A., is prescribed for the drill and discipline of the militia of the state of New York, and all exercises, evolutions and ceremonies not embraced therein are prohibited. The new system of "Artillery Tactics," as soon as published, will also be adopted. —Albany Express.

Chief Engineer Weber's Dogs.

Some reports of the Boston Post must have been at Washington, Pa. at some time and seen Chief Engineer Weber's two little terriers, for that newspaper remarks: "A regulation black-and-tan poodle, to be worth $100, must have a head about the size of a blood walnut; eyes that stand outside of their sockets; a tail about the size of a lead pencil, and legs so attenuated that the animal falls over on its back every time he lifts his head to bark."

Funny.
When a Cincinnati reporter encounters Bridgeport, Conn., in his travels he speaks frankly about it in these words: "My journey to Bridgeport was accomplished without any trouble, and when I arrived at the depot I was greeted with as much enthusiasm as I was the President's veto. Every man I met told me he was yelling, 'Have a hack-ski!' I rushed then I didn't know 'have a hack-ski' meant, but if they had any cold electricity, in a liquid state, lying handy, I wouldn't mind joining them. They didn't have it, so I didn't waste time on them."

Personal.
Mr. Olyphant, nephew of the late President of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company, has temporarily assumed the Superintendency of the Rensselaer & Saratoga and Susquehanna divisions, in place of Mr. Henry A. Fonda, resigned.

Reuben Bernard and daughter passed the Sunday in Omaha. Mr. B. had a good week-end visit in Chicago, for he got up so late Wednesday morning that the train he intended to take to Chicago had left, so he stood another day. It wasn't because, however, that champagne was the cause of the delay.

Judge Westbrook presides this week at the Circuit Court in Albany.

Particular Synod of Albany.

This Synod will hold its annual session in the First Reformed Church on Main street, and the city, commencing to-day at 3 P. M.

The Synod is composed of four-day and four-day delegates from each of the ten classes of the Reformed Church, extending from Kingston to Buffalo. After the opening of the Synod by the late President, Rev. Dr. Hoos, an hour is spent in devotional exercises. The annual Synodical sermon will be preached this evening. To-morrow forenoon the ordinary business of the Synod will be transacted; in the afternoon, the services of the Lord's Supper will be administered, while in the evening a sermon on "Systematic Benevolence" will be preached by Rev. Mr. Jones of Olean. All the meetings of the Synod are open, and the public is respectfully invited to attend.

Accidents.

The little son of Michael Welsh, a blacksmith, residing on the Wilbur road, fell from the baby wagon on Monday and cut his head severely on a stone.

On the same day Lena, the little daughter of Seta Tiencken, Wall street, while swinging was badly hurt by a grindstone falling on her. One end of the swing was fastened to this stone, which fell over, letting the child tumble directly under it. It was a narrow escape from killing her, as the stone weighed over sixty pounds.

While two young men of the upper part of the city were driving from the Sleighbrough ferry on Monday night the wheel of the wagon struck a curbstone in the lower part of the city and threw one of the gentlemen, Charles Low, out on the street. The horse was trotted back fast at the time, and Low says he turned at least five somersaults before he struck bottom. He is not hurt very much, having lit on that part of the body least apt to be damaged.

Shokan Rejoicing.

There is great rejoicing among the temperance and order-loving people at Shokan since it has become known that no licenses are to be granted. A special meeting of the Temperance League was called Monday night by the President, Col. Harrison White, when the following resolutions were unanimously passed:

WHEREAS, At the annual meeting of the Excise Board, consisting of C. L. Hawk, Supervisor, Dewitt C. Davis, S. C. Brown, and Lewis Barham, Justices of the Peace, it was voted to grant no licenses, therefore,

Resolved, That we do hereby express our profound gratitude for their official action in leading the earnest prayer and petition of one hundred and fifty of our citizens imploring this action to win the town from the blighting curse of the legalized sale of alcohol.

Resolved, That we do hereby pledge them our hearty support and co-operation in their every official act tending to suppress and exterminate the sale and use of all intoxicating liquors from our town.

A Good Policeman.

We have one policeman on our force who thoroughly understands the situation and accordingly adapted himself to it. In order to get on the force he had prepared for him two applications, which he probably could not read, one certifying that he was a good Republican, and the other that he was a good Democrat. After having obtained the names he called on one of our prominent Democratic lawyers and presented the Democratic paper, which the gentleman signed; then he in his ignorance presented the other and requested his signature to that, and that would be sufficient. The gentleman told him he was hardly prepared to sign a statement that he was a good Democrat and a good Republican both at the same time, but on glancing over the list of names discovered that several had signed both, which is a big joke on the signers. It is needless to say that a man so well adapted to the place got it. —Poughkeepsie Eagle.

A Mistaken Man.

On Monday last Garret Z. Sikkels of Stuyvesant called at the store of Messrs. Thomas & Co., grocers of this city, and while there he was told by the proprietor that $26 in money and two drafts. He insisted he had it when he entered the store, and had laid it on the counter, the man he misled it. He immediately made his loss known to officer Bryant and charged a boy, who was in the store at the time, with having it. Mr. Sikkels and the officer started for the Justice's office, but on the way they were stopped by a man in front of the market of Mr. James Best, who is only across the street, when a son of Henry Dakin saw him drop a pocketbook from his pantaloons leg. Young Dakin picked it up, and asked him if he had lost it. The mystery was explained. Mr. Sikkels instead of placing his pocketbook in his pocket, had put it between his pants and drawers, and couldn't find it. His walking caused it to drop, and it was found. Careless people often commit innocent errors; probably Mr. Sikkels don't. —Hudson Register.

Household Troubles.

Some one of a philosophical turn writes on a timely topic as follows: "The days of house furnishing and reparation are at hand, days of anxiety, vexation, fear. And how many of these troubles follow in the wake of elegance. When we see a load of exquisitely fashioned and delicately carved furniture go into a house, we think of the load of trouble and care carried in that cart. It is all vanity and vexation of spirit. Hard words to servants, perpetual fear of the children, anxiety about the sun and the moth—worries too numerous to mention. No comfort in any pretty to look at, and fashionable. Plenty of silverware means more than a plenty of fear and anxiety lest burglars or strangers, servants or beggars, thief or carelessness make away with the same. A lady losing her ware and resolving upon good plate, says, 'It makes me as good a show on the sideboard, pleases the servants, and gives me no fear of robbers. I bless my stars for that fortunate losing.' It is a good plan to think of this in furnishing our houses. Durability and comfort first, and then, if possible, also elegance, will save irritation and promote peace. A little more common sense and many indecent notions in this respect would make our homes happier and our hearts lighter."

Incendiary Attempt.
An attempt was made on Monday night to fire the shed of Derrenbacher & Stephan, on Abel street. A pile of wood near it was saturated with kerosene and the fire was under headway when discovered by some of the inmates of the dwelling near it. The way the good people turned out to extinguish the fire was a caution, and it is said the uniform of that fire company would have been a comfortable one for the three dog-days. However, they put the fire out, and that's all any company could do.

Tows.

The following were yesterday's tows: Steamers Valentine and Marshall—Barge Malinck, boats J. J. Pease, Stella, James Scriber, Sack, Hoffman, D. Hastings, 25 D. & H. C. Co.'s boats to New York; boat W. F. Curtis to Haverstraw; brig P. Roberts from Poughkeepsie, schooner Myrcor from Hyde Park to New York; 1 D. & H. C. Co.'s boat to Tarrytown.

Boat No. 1 North—Boat No. 419 to Newburgh; boats P. D. Leroy, E. D. Eddy to New Hamburg.

Steamer Baltic—Scow Trust, boats Maggie, Alabama, Beach, Diligent, Lizzie Wallace, No. 1, 1995, C. M. Freeman, Union, F. B. Robe, Blooming Youth, Kate Rapley, Edith, J. T. Andrews, No. 3, 3335 to Albany; No. 1, 877 to Troy; boat Union to Livingston Station; boat C. C. Alger to Athens.

The Value of a Hand.

A final decision was reached Friday in the case of John M. Barton vs. The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company. In this action the plaintiff sued for damages to his left leg and by the cars of the defendant. The facts in substance are that on the 25th of May, 1870, the plaintiff, who resided at No. 32 Perry street, in this city, was in the employ of Briggs, Vorseburg, Schuyler & Co., transporters of grain and other merchandise between Athens and New York. It was his duty to assist in the transshipment of grain from the cars of the Athens & Schenectady Railroad to the boat. On the day in question he had unloaded one set of cars, which were about to be removed, and he was preparing to spread the canvas on the ground for the next car. While doing this the train started and Barton was struck by a car and knocked down. In attempting to save himself he fell upon one of the rails and the wheels of the train passed over it, crushing it so that it had to be amputated at the wrist. In consequence of the accident he was incapacitated from work until April, 1871. The train which caused the accident, it was alleged, started up without ringing the bell or sounding the whistle. On the 24th of August, 1870, the plaintiff, through his attorney, A. J. Parker, Jr., commenced an action for $20,000 damages. The company, through their counsel, Hand, Hale & Swartz, set up a general denial to the allegations made in the complaint, which embodied the above facts. The case came on for trial before Justice Miller in December, 1872, and the plaintiff obtained a verdict for $4,000, and $605.28 costs. The motion of defendants for a new trial was denied, from which they appealed to the General Term. The court affirmed both the verdict and the order appealed from, with $388.02 additional costs. The defendants then appealed to the Court of Appeals, which, Friday, affirmed the judgment of the General Term, and Saturday, before Judge Learned, in Chambers, on motion of Mr. A. J. Parker, Jr., the remittitur from the Court of Appeals was made the judgment of the court below. Barton is now a comfortable at the Justice's Court. —Albany Express.

Waltz's Last Crime.

KINGSTON, May 4.

EDITOR DAILY FREEMAN:—There is said to be a humorous part in every tragedy, and I have never struck with the truth of the saying as when witnessing the execution of Waltz in the jail at Catskill on the first of May.

One of the doctors present, whose name has appeared in connection with the graphic phase of the case beside that of Gray, Swinburne and other experts, in nearly every newspaper in the state, was making—watch in hand—a close and careful examination of the pulse, and at the expiration of each consecutive half-minute he announced to the bystanders the number of pulsations going by the heart of the doomed man.

After the criminal had hung, suspended ten minutes, he applied his ear to the chest of the nearly lifeless murmur, and with the air of a profound expert in auscultation, astonished the audience with the important discovery—that there was "no respiratory murmur from the lungs!"

It is hardly possible that a man who has been twitched up four feet from the floor by a rope around his neck might give such laborious surroundings perspire freely—AND with the most natural thing for him to do in such a difficult position would have been to expire. But to respire, to make a "respiratory murmur" after hanging for ten minutes with the largest tightly compressed, with a small cord, we should think, would be a crime against physiology at which even Joe Waltz himself would have murmured.

DIED.

COOKINGHAM—In Newburgh, May 4th, 1874, Mrs. Christina, wife of John Cookingham,

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California. The medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative, well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion, Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bile Diseases.

The properties of Dr. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritive, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sordid, Antiseptic, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their livers are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, through their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. They are no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fortified.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Serf, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Scrofula, Gout, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Painting and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blisters, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scour, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors, and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuge, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the term of life, these Bitters speedily decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when they need the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Rondout, Jan 1, 1874.

Rondout, May 1st, 1874.

The attention of the public is respectfully invited to our Spring opening of Carpets, Dress Fabrics, General Dry Goods and Housekeeping Articles, and we confidently believe that a fair inspection will demonstrate our Stock to be second to none in this city.

These goods are of recent purchase, and our best judgment has been exerted in selection of styles, varieties and adaptation to the needs of this vicinity.

Every advantage to be gained from buying for Cash, and in discounts and differences on time bills, has been realized by us on these invoices, and as the old axiom "Goods well bought are half sold" is still a truism, we count on an active and satisfactory trade.

The practice of our firm in regard to marking profits is generally known, but we reiterate it here, as aiming for a large trade at small advances and with quick returns, rather than the old style of full profits, moderate sales, extended credits, and old goods held for original prices.

In the line of Carpets, we deem ourselves specially fortunate in having made almost an entire clearance at our annual stock taking (March 1st), and thus are not encumbered with old patterns, or hampered by necessity of sale of last year's goods at actual loss, but can offer our friends entirely fresh goods at prices now current. These goods are not bought in lots at few places, but culled from every leading stock in New York City that holds out an attraction or makes an extra inducement on price; and for variety, desirableness and cheapness, they are unequalled in this city.

Our entire stock on main floor is unusually complete and attractive, and it will afford us pleasure to show you these Goods at your earliest convenience.
